Spies

The United States, officially or unofficially, is desperately in need of SPIES who are willing to enter Russia and discover how satellites are built and made. This is one discovery we'll have to steal from them.

For further information contact the man, Bureau or Administration in charge of this legging project.

Dear Mr. Waxman: The "classified advertisement in your paper this week entitled "Wanted-Spies" is a classic. To me it is an editorial on the classified page. Whoever was responsible for it should be congratulated.

CHAS. J. ASTAIRE

Dear Mr. Waxman: Is the U.S. Government really running an ad for "Spies" in your newspaper?

A friend of mine told me about the ad and read it to me over the telephone. I would like to go to Russia on such a mission. To whom do I apply?

Dear Mr. Waxman: The United States is far ahead of Russia in the field of science. We have no need for spies to go there.

What we have forgotten about science Russia will never learn.

Dear Mr. Waxman: If the advertisement for "SPIES" in your classified section is genuine, it is a DISGRACE. If it is a lark, it is the finest piece of subtlety I have ever seen.

MRS. E. C. GLASS
